SUMMARY

Within the R&I project Star4bbs, UNI the Italian standardization body is organizing a training workshop to shed the light on the standardization world: how it works, which are the main actors, which is the link with certification. It will be highlighted also how organizations can transform R&I results into a fast-track standardization document, the CEN Workshop Agreement – CWA.

Finally, this training will explore eventual standardization outcomes from Star4bbs, Biorecer and Bioradar. It will disseminate their objectives and intermediate results to companies, research institutions and standardization experts.
